

Workforce Development Boards

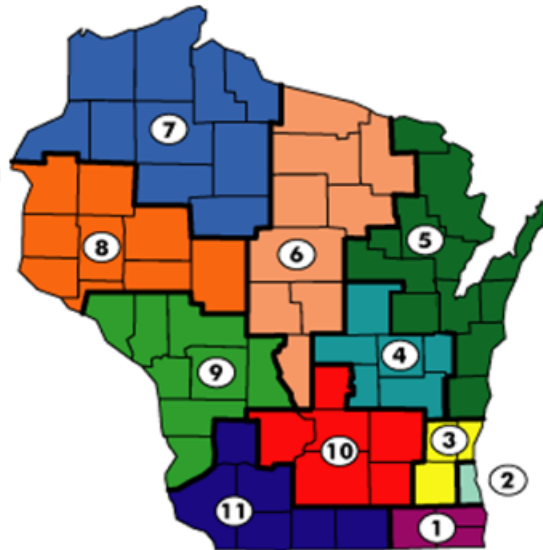

Workforce Development Boards (WDBs) are an effective strategic convener for employers, community-based organizations, clients, and DCC agents in these localized regions around the state focused on developing effective relationships among economic, education, and workforce partners.

The local WDB must develop strategies to continuously improve and strengthen the workforce development system through innovation in, and alignment and improvement of, employment, training, and education programs to promote economic growth. Each WDB is finely attuned to be an effective communicator between the various stakeholders of successful reentry.
